

IN-PRISON WORK

The in-prison work include laundry and housekeeping operations. The laundry operation makes the inmate to learn the skills of clothing washing and stain removal. In addition, in response to the surge in manpower demand for housework and accommodation cleaning, a housekeeping training class has been launched. After training, inmates can use it in housekeeping operations. Through the integration of training and action, it will help them return to work after being released from prison.

We are seeking the manufacturer and corporate partners to develop the in-prison work.
